Workshops for every disciplines.

Our workshops are designed to fit seamlessly into the classroom and connect to a variety of subjects. Students can explore communication, literacy, science, social studies, arts, health, career education, and of course French while having fun and learning actively. Each workshop encourages creativity, critical thinking, and collaboration, making learning engaging across disciplines!

The Little Prince Journey

Students read and draw The Little Prince, then bring their drawings to life using digital tools. This workshop strengthens vocabulary, creativity, and storytelling skills, while supporting French language learning and arts education. We will explore what it means to take care of someone and something we've built, with hands-on activities.

$350

Little Francophone Explorers

Students discover the Francophone music, traditions, snacks, smells and cultural practices through hands-on, interactive activities, sparking creativity, curiosity, and a deeper connection to French language and culture. All by using our 5 senses.

$350

French Market & Café Adventure

Students role-play as vendors and customers in a French market and Belgian café, practicing polite conversations, numbers, and social interactions in French. Our team guides the activity, and small snacks preparation are included! This will develop teamwork, and real-life language skills.

$370

Film

Students watch a movie (english subtitle available) and participate in a guided discussion and activities after the movie. This experience develops listening, comprehension, critical thinking, and cultural awareness, while reinforcing Core French and Immersion learning outcomes.

$300

Mime & Words

Students explore the differences between theatre and mime, practicing stage expression, careful observation, and imaginative performance. This activity builds communication, collaboration, and creative thinking skills, in line with Arts Education learning goals.

$350

House & Architecture

Through the story of The Three Little Pigs, students learn French vocabulary for houses, materials, and shapes. They explore straw, wood, and brick, then create a small house model, practicing language, creativity, and teamwork in a fun, hands-on way.

$400

Comic Book

Students explore the history and art of comic books, learning key vocabulary and visual storytelling techniques. They create their own comic following a snail's adventures in B.C., while developing narrative skills, creative expression, and critical thinking. Activities also encourage sequencing, character development, and connecting stories to local history and environments.

$350

Cuisine & Baking

Students join a hands-on cooking or baking workshop of a Francophone recipe. A professional chef demonstrates the recipe, students prepare it, and then taste their creations, building independence and teamwork skills. Recipes to choose from: waffles, crêpes, tarts, quiches, madeleines, and more.

$400

Art Exhibition

Students discover a current art exhibition through a guided tour, engaging in explanations and discussions to understand the artworks, explore artistic techniques, and deepen cultural knowledge. Activities encourage observation, creative thinking, and personal expression while connecting students to contemporary art in meaningful ways. Art activities included.

$370

Film

Students watch a movie (english subtitle available) and participate in a guided discussion and activities after the movie. This experience develops listening, comprehension, critical thinking, and cultural awareness, while reinforcing Core French and Immersion learning outcomes.

French History & Slang

Students explore the fascinating lives of French figures—from Napoleon Bonaparte to Omar Sy—discovering how they shaped French history, culture, and society. Through interactive games, fun challenges, and a dive into French slang, students also learn how the French language evolves over time, making history and language come alive.

$350

Ocean Guardians

Students explore the origins and features of the ocean to better understand and protect it. They learn about the threats facing marine ecosystems and develop collective solutions to help preserve them, while also building key vocabulary related to the ocean and conservation.

$400

Comic Book

Students dive into the exciting world of comic books, learning about their history and exploring specific vocabulary. They then become storytellers, designing their own comics about travel adventures while sharpening their narrative and creative skills. A hands-on, imaginative way to bring stories—and French—to life!
